THE VISION AND SCARLET WITCH — PILOT NOTES

The deck in one line

Every spell is free and makes her bigger. Her trigger refunds {R} and adds a +1/+1 counter, so a one-mana cantrip costs nothing, draws a card, grows a flier and fires every burn permanent on the board. Bank the surplus red under Leyline Tyrant, Electro or Ashling, then spend it all at once.

The loop

cast {R} cantrip  →  trigger: +{R}, +1/+1 on her  →  cantrip resolves: draw  →  repeat ↳ Guttersnipe 2 · Archer 1 · Flamebreather 1 · Coruscation 1 · Inscription 2
                     · Longshot 2 · Thermo (untap → tap) 1   — to EACH opponent, per spell

With four converters out, eight cantrips in a turn is 8 × 6 = 48 to each opponent. The commander is +8/+8 at the end of it. Nobody needed to attack.

The three numbers you track

1. Cards in hand. The cantrips are card-neutral; the draw spells (Looting, Big Score, Hex Magic, Wheel, Vision, Powerbalance) are what keep the chain going. Cast Hex Magic with cards in hand — it exiles the hand and redraws that many; at zero cards it does nothing.

1. Red in the pool. Under a bank it never empties (CR 106.4). Announce it every time you pass priority (CR 106.4b). Rite of Flame nets two red with her out: you pay {R}, it adds {R}{R} and her trigger adds {R}. Under Emancipation, Ancient Tomb deals 6, so stop tapping it.

1. Her power. Base 3. One counter from every spell (two under Roaming Throne), Forge of Heroes the turn she lands, Tyrite Sanctum each turn, Blackblade +1 per land, Champion's Helm +2, Plate +3, Embercleave +1.

Protection sequencing

Piece	When
Swiftfoot Boots / Champion's Helm	First equip, the turn after she lands. Hexproof before anything else.
Commander's Plate	Second equip — pro-W/U/B/G stops most targeted removal, most blockers, most combat damage.
Mithril Coat	Hold it. Flash it in response to a wrath (it attaches itself to a legendary creature).
Deflecting Swat	Held, always. Free with her out.
Hexing Squelcher	Cast before the storm turn — everything you cast is uncounterable, and she gets ward.
Conqueror's Flail	Equip the turn before the big turn: opponents can't cast spells during your turn.
Cavern of Souls (Hero)	Recast mana; the recast can't be countered (CR 106.6).
The Ozolith	Cast early. When she dies, the counters go there; recast her precombat and move them back at beginning of combat.
Tyrite Sanctum	{2},{T}: God + a counter. Later {4},{T}, sac: indestructible counter — permanent, survives everything but exile/edicts.

What none of this stops: edicts, Farewell-style exile wraths, overloaded Cyclonic Rift, –X/–X. Against those the plan is the two-mana recast (Command Beacon zeroes the tax) with the counters waiting on The Ozolith.

The storm turn

Precombat, in this order:

1. Squelcher out, Flail equipped, hexproof on.
2. Rituals into the bank (Pyretic {1}{R} → {R}{R}{R} + refund; Seething Song; Jeska's Will; Mana Geyser late, when their lands are tapped).

1. Cantrips, draw spells, more cantrips. Every one is a converter trigger.
2. Grapeshot last — storm counts every spell cast this turn, copies go anywhere.
3. Or Aetherflux Reservoir: spell N gains N life; after ten spells you've gained 55. Pay 50: 50 damage to a face. Two players in two turns.

1. Or Crackle with Power with the bank: X=4 is 20 to each of four targets for {12}{R}{R}; X=5 is 25 to each of five.

1. Or Soul's Fire after Bulk Up, with Loki tapped first ({1}: copies the next instant or sorcery with mana value up to his power): her power twice, to one face or two (the copy may keep the same target, and it resolves first). Under Emancipation each hit is tripled and Shadowspear gains all of it back.

Every power-to-face spell targets her — Soul's Fire, Chandra's Ignition, Origin of Thor III. If she is removed in response, the spell resolves and deals nothing (CR 608.2b, no last-known- information fallback). Hexproof on and Swat held before casting any of them.

Neheb turns are two-stage (CR 500.1): burn in the precombat main — every pinger trigger, Kediss, ward payments all count — then at the start of the postcombat main Neheb adds per life lost across all opponents. Eight spells through four converters is ~140 red. Spend it there (Crackle, Past in Flames, Soul's Fire) or bank it under Tyrant, Electro or Ashling; it empties otherwise. You do not have to attack to reach the postcombat main.

Arcane Bombardment script: it triggers on your first instant or sorcery each turn — every opponent's turn too. Cast one cheap instant on each of their turns (Might of the Meek, Crimson Wisps, Lightning Bolt) and the pile grows by one random spell from your graveyard and every copy is cast — her trigger, the pingers and the storm count all see each one. Never let the trigger land with no instant or sorcery in the graveyard. Big Score copies still cost a discard (additional costs stay); a copied Crackle is X = 0, so bin Crackle with Hex Magic, not into the yard. With all four reducers out it costs .

Increasing Vengeance: copies Soul's Fire, Big Score, Fiery Confluence or Grapeshot once; its flashback (, reduced to) copies twice — Soul's Fire three times is her power to three faces.

Wanda's Vision: your second spell each turn casts a random nonland card free — on opponents' turns too (two instants). A Crackle hit is X = 0; a card you decline stays exiled.

Powerbalance: whenever an opponent casts a spell, you may reveal your top card and cast it free if its mana value matches theirs. The free spell goes on the stack above theirs (CR 608.2g) and counts as your cast, so she gets her counter and and every pinger fires. Its mana lasts the whole step (CR 106.4), so an instant in hand can spend it right away. Decline Crackle, because a free cast locks X at 0; it stays on top and you draw it. A card that doesn't match also stays on top, and every reveal shows the table your next draw. The free spell plus one instant from your hand makes two spells that turn, which also triggers Wanda's Vision.

Origin of Thor script: cast it the turn before the storm turn. Chapter II fires on the storm turn (a counter per spell, on top of her own), chapter III the turn after: her power to each opponent, pingers kept.

Then combat if she's suited: she flies, Bulk Up doubles her after blockers, Embercleave flashes in for double strike and trample (it costs less per attacker), Kediss copies the hit to every other opponent.

Kill math (commander damage is combat damage only — CR 903.10a)

Board	Power	One swing
Her + 8 counters	11	11
+ Embercleave (double strike)	12	24 — lethal
+ Bulk Up after blocks	24	24, or 48 with Embercleave
+ Kediss	any	same damage to each other opponent (life loss, not commander damage)
Chandra's Ignition at power 15	—	15 to each opponent and each other creature — kills your own pingers, so it is the last spell of the game
Origin of Thor chapter III at power 15	—	15 to each opponent, no sweep — cast the Saga two turns before, storm on the chapter II turn
Soul's Fire at power 15	—	15 to one face; Loki or Increasing Vengeance copies it (the copy may keep the same target); Past in Flames recasts it
Fiery Emancipation out	×3	she is lethal at 7 power in one hit; Ignition at 7 = 21 to each opponent; every Guttersnipe trigger = 6
Twinflame Tyrant out	×2	opponents only, combat included; with Emancipation ×6

Sequencing traps

- Reducers don't touch the cantrips. Ruby Medallion and The Fire Crystal reduce generic only;

a spell is already at its floor. They pay for Big Score, Hex Magic, Bulk Up, Loki's power-up and the Equipment.

- "Noncreature spell" and "instant or sorcery" are different sets. Archer, Flamebreather, Coruscation Mage and Longshot fire on Equipment and artifacts; Guttersnipe, Thermo, Inscription, Electro, Ashling, Storm-Kiln and Urabrask only on instants and sorceries. Iron Man's tokens come only from red spells — colourless Equipment and rocks make none.

- Fiery Confluence's "1 damage to each creature" mode kills Archer, Coruscation Mage and Kediss. Take the 2-to-each-opponent and destroy-artifact modes unless the board is empty.

- Ashling discards then draws on every instant/sorcery; the third trigger in a turn adds

. Sequence cheap spells so the third one lands when you need the burst.

- Loki copies only spells with mana value up to his power — power him up the turn he lands (less his own cost is), and Tyrite Sanctum can grow him further. His tap needs haste (Fire Crystal, Boots) or a turn.

- Iron Man, Tony Stark makes a 2/1 flying artifact token per red spell (colourless Equipment doesn't count), doubled by Throne — he is a Hero. Each token pumps Storm-Kiln Artist.

- Wheel of Fortune / Reforge after you've emptied your hand — and note what it strips from opponents' hands the turn before you go off.

- Mox Amber needs a legendary creature — cast it after her, not before.
- Roaming Throne names Hero and has to be on the battlefield before the spell is cast — then every spell is 🔥🔥 and two counters. Kediss is a Lizard; not covered.

- Eldritch Immunity-style "protection from each colour" would unattach Embercleave — that is why it isn't in the deck. Commander's Plate never conflicts with red Equipment.

- Chandra's Ignition is a sorcery: it is the finisher, not the answer to an attack.

Mulligan guide

Keep two lands and two one-mana spells, or three lands and a converter. She is castable on turn 4 off any hand with three red sources.

Ship hands with no cantrip and no draw — the deck does nothing until the chain starts, and a hand of Equipment and rituals is a hand of nothing.
